

Welcome to the restaurant of the Grand Hôtel des Bains.

Built at the end of the 19th century, the hotel was for almost a century a family pension, which became legendary for its unique location. Today, only the rattan chairs remain as the last vestige of that time when a hundred roasted lobsters were served on summer Sundays under the lime trees.

At the helm for 25 years, our Chef Michel Nicol draws tirelessly from local and regional resources to create a daily fresh and seasonal menu. With his passionate team, he offers you refined cuisine which is simple, light and delicious at the same time.

The sea that surrounds us spoils us with its benefits. Our meats are all French and most often Breton. Just like our seasonal vegetables. Most of our products are home-made, including the bread.

The whole team of the Grand Hôtel des Bains is at your disposal and wishes you a wonderful evening.
